The Pink Ladies of Rydell High! Wendy Marvin and Val Berrissoul have teamed up to rule the school. And the rules are, there are no rules! Tell me about it, stud!

Wendy founded Matrix Roofing & Home Solutions in 2007 and is the CEO. The company foundation is based on the values of being trustworthy, educated and authentic. In 2018, Matrix earned the Small Business of the Year award from the Greater Vancouver Chamber of Commerce.

Her company has completed many charitable roof donations, some for Habitat for Humanity, others for local groups. Her passion for the industry led her to focused involvement in the Roofers Coffee Shop Influencers and the National Women in Roofing. She currently serves on the Board for Western States Roofing Contractors Association (and was Board Member of the year for 2019-20) and on the Executive Board for the forward-thinking Roofing Technology Think Tank (RT3). Because of her passion to make construction a desirable and growing industry for youth and especially for females, she partners with several local skills academies and schools. On a more personal level, family is a high priority for Wendy. She enjoys family game nights and watching her three phenomenal kids grow and become contributors themselves. She loves to read, discuss, challenge and connect, she is a champion of underdogs and enjoys every minute of this completely complicated and ever-changing life.

Val is the Branch Manager of the Salmon Creek Branch of Columbia Bank. She has 41 years of experience in the banking industry and joined Columbia Bank in 2012. Under Val's leadership, her team provides excellent customer service and builds lasting relationships. Commercial loans are her specialty! Vancouver has been home the majority of her life, except for a two-year adventure at the Columbia Bank branch in Seaside, Oregon. Val is active in the community; she is a member of the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce, serves on the Strategic Engagement Committee for Share, the Vancouver Downtown Business Association, and is the Secretary of the Ft Vancouver Regional Library Foundation. Val is also the current President of the Greater Clark County Rotary Club and is a Leadership Clark County Alum. She enjoys networking and volunteering her time to promote small businesses and to assist those in need in our community. In Val's free time, she can be found reading, gardening, and spending time with her family.

Wendy and Val insist that you support the Pink Ladies with a donation. Some people can be so touchy and you don't want to upset these Pink Ladies! They are electrifying!
